2. Sexual harassment and Sexual Assault is absolutely unacceptable and will NOT be tolerated in this command or in the United States Army. I am totally committed to a policy that demands respect and dignity for all members of this command and their Family Members; a command climate that is clear in culture and action that sexual harassment in any form is prohibited.

3. Sexual harassment is a form of gender discrimination that involves unwanted sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal/non-verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

a. Leaders will take immediate action upon any allegation of sexual harassment. It is the responsibility of every member of this command to intervene and report incidents of sexual harassment in order to ensure an environment free of this threat. I will not tolerate any attempts to suppress, restrain, interfere with or otherwise coerce any individual who wants to file a complaint. I will not tolerate any acts of reprisal against anyone filing a complaint.

b. If a Soldier or family member believes that he or she is a victim of sexual harassment, he/she can present their complaint to the chain of command or the battalion Sexual Harassment and Response Prevention / Victim Advocate (SHARP/VA) for informal resolution. He or she may also file a formal complaint with the brigade Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) or the Installation SHARP office.

SUBJECT: Policy Letter #4: Prevention of Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault

4. Sexual assault is defined as intentional sexual contact, characterized by use of force, physical threat, or abuse of authority or when the victim does not or cannot consent. It includes rape, nonconsensual sodomy, indecent assault, or attempts to commit these acts. The failure of the victim to offer physical resistance should not be construed as consent. Consent should not be deemed or construed to mean the failure by the victim to offer physical resistance. Additionally, consent is not given when a person uses force, threat of force, coercion, or when the victim is asleep, incapacitated, or unconscious.

a. Any Soldier who is aware that a sexual assault has occurred should immediately report the incident to the chain of command. If a Soldier, family member or civilian believes that he or she has been sexually assaulted there are two reporting options for Soldiers who believe they have been sexually assaulted and adult military dependents who believe they have been sexually assaulted by someone other than a spouse or intimate partner.

(1) Restricted Reporting. This reporting option allows the victim confidentiality to disclose sexual assault details when told to a Chaplain or reported to the unit SHARP/VA, brigade or installation SARC/VA, or military hospital personnel without the chain of command or law enforcement involvement. The victim receives medical treatment, advocacy services, and support without initiation of an investigation. Without an investigation, the perpetrator cannot be prosecuted.

(2) Unrestricted Reporting. This reporting option allows a victim the same services as the restricted reporting; however, will result in a formal investigation which includes the possibility of a criminal prosecution against the alleged perpetrator(s). A report made to law enforcement or the chain of command results in an unrestricted report. However, an unrestricted report may also be made to the through the chain of command, supervisory personnel, military police, Criminal Investigation Command (CID), unit SHARP/VA, brigade or installation SARC/VA, or military hospital medical personnel. Details regarding the incident will be limited to only those personnel who have a legitimate need to know.

5. Sexual harassment and sexual assault undermine the unit's ability to work effectively as a team. Leaders are responsible for exercising active and positive leadership in the prevention of sexual harassment and sexual assault. This includes at a minimum 3.5 hours of annual SHARP training to educate the force, while enforcing accountability for those who commit these violations. Reprisal against individuals exercising their right to report sexual harassment or sexual assault will not be tolerated by this command.

6. When completing Officer and Noncommissioned Officer Evaluation Reports, raters will assess how well the rated Officer or NCO fostered a climate of dignity and respect and adhered to the SHARP Program. This assessment should identify any significant actions or contributions that the rated Officer or NCO made toward promoting the personal and professional development of his or her subordinates; ensuring the fair, respectful treatment of assigned personnel; and establishing a workplace and overall command climate that fosters dignity and respect for all members of the group. This assessment should also identify any failures by the Officer or NCO to foster a climate of dignity, respect and adherence to the SHARP program.

7. Rights of a victim:

a. The right to be treated with fairness and respect.

b. The right to reasonable, accurate, and timely notice of public preliminary hearing, pretrial confinement hearings, courts proceedings, and clemency and parole hearing related to the offense.

c. The right to be present at all public proceedings related to the offense unless the hearing officer or military judge determines that your testimony would be materially altered.

d. The right to reasonably confer with the prosecutor/Trail Counsel in the case.

e. The right to receive available restitution.

f. The right to be reasonably heard at: 1) a public hearing concerning the continuation of any pretrial confinement of the accused; 2) a sentencing hearing related to the offense; 3) a public Military Department Clemency and Parole Board hearing related to the offense.

g. The right to submit a written statement for the consideration of the Convening authority prior to taking action on findings and sentence.

h. The right to proceedings free from unreasonable delay.

i. The right to be provided information, if applicable, about the conviction, sentencing, imprisonment, convening authority's action, appellate review, and release of the offender.

8. Units will ensure they identify professional, qualified personnel to be Primary/Alternate SHARP Representatives and maintain no less than two trained personnel at all times. Any time a unit will lose a Primary/Alternate SHARP Representative, The Battalion Executive Officer, Command Sergeant Major, and the Battalion Commander will be notified immediately.
