RISK ANALYSIS INFORMATION

18. Current Situation: "Provide a description of the situation that necessitates this deviation."

Attachment? ☐

Barracks on installation don't meet the 1+1 enhanced configuration that allows light duty cooking within. This negatively effects quality of life and morale for Soldiers residing in them. The amount of barracks and time it would take to build new buildings that meet the design necessary is decades away.

19. Hazard Category: Fire/Heat

20. Specific Hazard: Facility Fire

21. Duration of Deviation
(Choose one of the following)

21a. 1 month or less: (select the duration (in days))

21d. Permanent or greater than 5 years: (enter number of years or PERMANENT)

PERMANENT

22. Deviation Approval Authority: (or Equivalent) General Officer (GO) or Responsible SES-1 thru SES-6

23. Mission Impact of Not Accepting Risk: lower morale and quality of life for those Soldiers not allowed to cook in barracks rooms.

24. What we need to do that violates 8a: (Provide a detailed description of the action that deviates from the standards.)

allow light duty cooking in all permanent party barracks on Fort Sill regardless of room meeting 1+1 enhanced guidelines established in ABMP. Light duty cooking is defined as boiling water, pan-frying, and use of enclosed, small indoor cooking appliances such as George Foreman grills, Instant Pots, Crock Pots, and Griddles. It excludes items such as broilers, fryers, and rotisserie type appliances.

25. Control Measures: "Measures taken, or will take, to reduce hazards of risk being accepted."

Attachment? ☐

Light duty cooking will only be done while the Soldier is in the room supervising the cooking. A 10lb ABC Fire Extinguisher will be present within the room at all times that is readily accessible.

26. Permanent Corrective Actions (with Milestones): Include estimated cost, military construction project number, etc.

Attachment? ☐

Renovation projects in the FIP and MILCON projects to construct new barracks will take over a decade to bring all barracks up to standards established in safety guidelines.
