

Unit, Personnel and Family Readiness
Statement
Commanding Officer
Marine Artillery Detachment

-People are this unit's most valuable asset.

-In order to achieve the readiness, responsiveness, and resiliency to fight and win in today's complex security environment we must nurture our unit and Family support structure.

-All of us will need help at some point, and it is critical that we know where and how to get that help. Additionally, there will be opportunities for all of us to help a Family member in need, so we must remain postured to get them the required assistance. That requires a complete knowledge of the resources available to us.

-Our Unit, Personnel, and Family Readiness Program (UPFRP) is a key asset to help members of the MARDET Family navigate through challenges associated with both career and life events. Remember, you have (2) name tapes!

-The UPFRP is a key source for critical information, such as referrals to base and local resources, deployment readiness training, volunteer opportunities for unit Family members, morale support, and family readiness events.

-The UPFRP is also a catalyst for developing critical partnerships and networking opportunities for stability and future success.

-The MARDET UPFRP Coordinator is GySgt Kinney at danielle.p.kinney.mil@army.mil or (580) 442-6188. Along with your chain of command, she remains postured to assist!

-The MARDET Military and Family Life Counselor is Ms. Rebecca at (580) 447-6173.
